

DAY OF CARING

June 12, 2015

HOW IT WORKS

- Local non-profit agencies submit project needs for the DAY OF CARING to the United Way of the Coalfield.
- Community volunteers from local companies, businesses, organizations, churches, etc. contact the UW to donate their time.
- United Way of the Coalfield links volunteers and projects and manages the process. Examples of past projects include landscaping, painting, cleaning, and general maintenance.
- Teams spend a day working on-site on their project. Continental breakfast, snacks, and lunch are provided for volunteers.

Underneath everything we are,
underneath everything we do,
we are all people. Connected, Interdependent, United.

And when we reach out a hand to one, we influence the condition of all. That's what it means to LIVE UNITED.

The United Way DAY OF CARING is the nation's largest corporate volunteer event. In Hopkins County, volunteer teams work together to provide much-needed, free hands-on labor for community projects.

This year our Day of Caring will be focusing once again on Mahr Park at Hidden Hills Farms as our community is now coming together to honor the land and legacy of the Mahr's though its development.

2014 Day of Caring

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

The United Way DAY OF CARING demonstrates the mission of the United Way...to bring neighbors and resources together to improve lives here in Hopkins County.

The DAY OF CARING is a great way for businesses, organizations, and individuals to build camaraderie and goodwill, while giving back to the community.

VOLUNTEER TODAY

If you or your organization are interested in participating in the 2015 DAY OF CARING, Friday June 12th, please contact the United Way of the Coalfield at (270) 821-3170 or email chip.tate@unitedwayofthecoalfield.org. To ensure we meet all our project needs please respond by May 20th.

SERVICE TO OTHERS

The 2015 DAY OF CARING is a way to render such SERVICE and to become part of the change you want to see in our community!
